In a series of tedious monotonies of daily life and everyday life sometimes they do not have enough bright colors and fresh emotions. There is a desire to walk in the verdant forest to visit the spring camp, observe various animals in their natural habitat, in a word, to look at the magnificence of nature in its unspoiled beauty. Often, however, fulfilling these aspirations can be very difficult, especially urban residents. And here it comes to the aid of the Forest HD DualBoot Games company app. Now you don't need to get out of town or visit the zoo: flora and fauna compactly arranged in your mobile device. The app features beautiful graphics and superb animation. Here is everything to interest the nature lover. Forest with tall trees, through the lush crowns that scattered rays of sunlight. Green flowery meadow, on which fireflies poised. A small waterfall surrounded by tree trunks, covered with moss and mushrooms. Forest HD is also inhabited by various animals. A proud deer, a wary hare and powerful e raises travel around the world's app, no fear of outside observers on the other side of the screen. In short, we can safely say that developers have a responsible attitude towards their work. The user has the ability to contemplate not only summer but also winter forest. In addition, the creators of the program periodically release new additions. Warning of significant disadvantages failed. I just haven't had the time or the energy in the last few years. From December 21 (2017) my OpenWeatherMap account will be suspended because the number of requests using my API key significantly exceeds the free subscription threshold which is 60 calls per minute. If you need weather synchronization, you'll need to use your API key for now. Forest Live Wallpaper is a beautiful and relaxing wallpaper with trees blowing in the wind and a sky that changes from sunset to sunrise. Don't forget to go into the settings to turn on things like time, multisampling* or the 3D parallaxe effect*, if you don't want to get lost! Not supported on all devices. TroubleshootingHow do I use this background on the lock screen? You need to have a lock screen that can use animated backgrounds as a background, like Locker Master or something. You may need to enable it in the launcher settings. When you set a background to Galaxy S6, for example, you choose whether to use it for the splash screen, lock screen, or both. The one on the screen is part of the CyanogenMod ROM. The screen is too dark at night! There is a color setting called a night multiplier that change into a brighter color, making the trees and hills brighter at night. It is not the perfect solution, but it will have to do so until (in the end) I add a correction. Time is wrong! Q&A; Make sure you have a location set in the location settings, and then check if recent weather data is available (via the weather settings menu), updated, and for the correct location. If not, the weather provider simply isn't accurate, accurate, you can now change the time provider. Features: -Day/night cycle that fades colors from day to night, depending on your location. - Animated trees. - Local weather (wind, rain, snow and clouds, so far). - Parallaxe effect with different layers as you scroll. - 3D parallaxe effect when tilting the device. - Customizable colors and weather. - Stars. - Mountains. - Simulated scrolling. - Clouds.What to expect in the future?- Infrequent updates (I'm lazy -_-) - More weather effects (visibility, lightning...). - And much more planned!===PERMISSIONS===INTERNETUsed to retrieve weather data from OpenWeatherMap and ForecastIO. It can be changed in settings and is disabled by default. ACCESS_COARSE_LOCATIONUsed to obtain an approximate location, which in turn is used to retrieve local weather data and to calculate the elevation of the sun. BILLINGUsed only for donations. Only.
